Setting One's Own Working Hours

Ever feel as if your inner clock is not set for early rising and early getting on the job? If so, a new system being tried out, and successfully, in Germany — of all places — may be for you.

There, it seems, quite a few employers are allowing their workers to set their own hours. We say Germany, of all places, because the German is supposed to be a methodical person who likes doing the same thing the same way at the same time, more so than most other human beings.

But, it is reported, the German workers like the new plan fine. They work when they feel like it. They not only set their own hours, but if they work more in a month than the norm they lay off that many hours next month. If they work less, they are supposed to catch up next month. Workers at tasks where machinery requires an operator's presence must see to it some other qualified person runs the machine during his absence, of course.

Most workers, it is reported, prefer the new freedom to choose their own hours to a pay raise. They no longer claim to be sick when they are not. And, as can be expected where workers are happy, production has increased. Another possible dividend: More staggering of hours should ease the rush-hour traffic problem each morning and afternoon. — Houston (Tex.) Chronicle.

Value of A Wife

What's a wife worth? Economists of the Chase Manhattan Bank in New York recently checked on the tasks of the average housewife, the number of hours she devotes to each, and the going rate of pay for each task in the New York area.

Columnist Sylvia Porter took issue with the results and added a few other tasks overlooked by the economists. At one time, following the Chase Manhattan guidelines, she updated the figures the other day with this result: The average housewife works 99.6 hours a week, and her value for this work amounts to $172.96. However, she is paid precisely $0.00.

Obviously the housewife has the most demanding job in the country. While her pay is low, her fringe benefits are "great." At least in the eyes of her family, The Chase-Porter figures do not take into account the hours a wife devotes to being a hostess. Since the rate for hostesses is $1.75 an hour, then the housewife ought to have another $7 a week added to her non-existent salary.

What are the 12 major tasks performed by the housewife that are included in the survey? Nursemaid, housekeeper, cook, dishwasher, laundress, food buyer, gardener, chauffeur, maintenance man, seamstress, dietitian, and practical nurse. A housewife is a most valuable person to have around. — Ocala (Fla.) Star-Banner.

A Pity It Is—

Yes, we know there is such a thing as being obsolete; the old must go for the new, or just go. And all that. The United States Treasury has decided it will print no more $2 bills. "Lack of public demand," they say. Don't tell us our millions of horse players have abandoned their favorite wherewithal!

We're suspicious. Real reason probably is the computer craze. Anything a compartmentalizes is a put. The $2 bill has had a long and honorable history, in spite of that myth about it having bad-luck connotations (it was money, wasn't it?). It has been a useful instrument of exchange since 1776. Now it will become a collector's item and take its place in the museum of time along with the stagecoach and asafetida worn around the neck.

Oh, well. These days we don't get much of a look at the other bills, either. — Knoxville (Tenn.) News-Sentinel.

Elmer Brown Resigns as Co. Examiner

Hempstead County School Examiner Elmer Brown has resigned effective Thursday, Sept. 1. His resignation was accepted by the Hempstead District Board which immediately named Mrs. Doris Jean Flowers its secretary to administer school affairs.

In extending his resignation Mr. Brown told the board that his decision was not an easy one after an association of 21 years in county school affairs.

He said he felt he could be of greater service to schools by working in another capacity. He thanked the board and offered his services in the future if needed.

Mr. Brown will handle administrative work and coordinate federal school programs and teach special math classes for the Blevins, Saratoga and Washington school districts.

Fulbright Fears Buildup in Thailand

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J. W. Fulbright intends to throw the limelight of a Senate inquiry on the American buildup in Thailand to explore whether it carries the explosive of another Viet Nam.

Fulbright said he feared it might and argued the administration was keeping Congress and the public in the dark.

However, the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said administration officials were reluctant to testify on the situation at an open hearing.

A source said that tentatively closed hearings are planned for about Sept. 19, with the committee still negotiating with the administration in hopes of later staging open hearings, such as the ones on Viet Nam and China. Fulbright disclosed his plans and voiced his concern during a committee hearing Wednesday on Pentagon handling of news coverage of the Viet Nam war.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., asked Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester why there wasn't more information from Thailand "where we have almost as many men as we had in Viet Nam a year ago."

Sylvester, the Pentagon's top public information officer, said he didn't want to discuss Thailand in an open hearing but would be happy to behind closed doors.

Fulbright for weeks has been voicing concern about the growing American presence in Thailand, across the border from Viet Nam. He has cited published reports of construction of large bases including what has been described as the longest airplane runway in Southeast Asia.

Ex-Sheriff Indicted for Tax Evasion

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Oscar L. Woodman of Newport, a former Jackson County sheriff, has been indicted on charges of evading $13,212 in income taxes over a three-year period. The indictment was made public Wednesday when Woodman appeared at U.S. District Court here to sign a recognizance bond. The indictment was returned Tuesday by a federal grand jury.

It charged Woodman with evading taxes in 1961, 1962 and 1963. Woodman was Jackson County sheriff for two years, ending in 1964. Robert D. Smith, a U.S. attorney, said Woodman had income totaling $55,987 for the three years, but reported only $6,933 on the joint return he filed for himself and his wife. Woodman failed to report a "considerable amount" of fees he collected as sheriff, Smith said, and one year Woodman omitted his wife's $1,200 annual salary as cook for the county jail.

Faubus said extortion was one of several wrongdoings by some of the wardens and trustees.

The governor said prison Supl. O. E. Bishop was in no way involved in any of the improper conduct.

Planes Hit Red Area of Infiltration

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers hammered suspected Communist infiltration routes in the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam today.

The planes from Guam unloaded tons of explosives on two target areas in the buffer strip where North Vietnamese regulars were seen infiltrating into the South.

Other U.S. planes continued the pounding of North Viet Nam.

Air Force pilots reported so many hits on an ammunition depot that it "looked like a fireworks display."

A week-long lull in ground fighting persisted another day in South Viet Nam. The U.S. command reported no significant fighting. Sought Vietnamese headquarters listed only one that the arrival of 3,000 more engagement of any size.

The allied commands announced that enemy casualties dropped sharply last week while U.S. and South Vietnamese combat losses remained about the same.

Allied spokesman said 1,009 Communists were killed and 101 captured last week. This was an unexplained drop from 1,829 Communists reported killed and 247 captured the previous week. The U.S. command said 87 Americans were killed last week, compared with 91 Aug. 12-20. However, the number of wounded rose more than 40 per cent from 425 to 599. Only one American was reported missing, a decline of seven.

A South Vietnamese spokesman reported 205 government troops killed last week, nine fewer than the week before, and 78 captured. Other allied forces reported five killed and 14 wounded.

The U. S. command disclosed that the arrival of 3,000 more troops this week brought American strength in South Viet Nam to 303,400. The United States is expected to expand its forces here to 400,000 men by the end of the year.

A spokesman said the present total includes 185,000 Army, 56,000 Marines, 42,000 Air Force, 20,000 Navy and 400 Coast Guard.

The B52 raids on the demilitarized zone were the fifth by the bombers in the neutral buffer area created by the 1954 Geneva conference on Indochina.

Other B52s struck a Viet Cong base camp 35 miles west of the coastal central city of Quang Ngai, a spokesman said.

Over North Viet Nam Wednesday, an Air Force F4 Phantom jet crashed 35 miles northwest of Dong Hoi and its two-man crew was listed as missing.

The 349th plane reported lost over the Communist North. U. S. Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots flew a total of 97 missions over North Viet Nam, concentrating on fuel, ammunition, supply and transport facilities in the Dong Noi and Thanh Hoa areas in the southern Panhandle.

The most spectacular raid was against a truck convoy area and munitions dump 29 miles northwest of Dong Hoi and not far from where the Phantom went down, the spokesman said.

Price Rises Leave Medicare Patients in Higher Cost Squeeze

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN

CHICAGO (AP) — With doctors' fees and hospital charges on the rise, private patients in some hospitals are facing the possibility that a Medicare cost squeeze could develop to boost their bills still higher.

A cost-squeeze showing hasn't developed yet, with the Medicare program only two months old, but officials attending the annual meeting of the American Hospital Association indicated in interviews and speeches that it might.

Dr. Philip D. Bonnet of Boston, immediate past president of the AHA, predicted nurses' strikes for higher pay in various parts of the country, prospective wage boosts for other hospital employees, minimum wage legislation and unemployment compensation coverage could boost patient fees by as much as 25 per cent in the next year.

Hospital rates went up 7.7 per cent in the last 12 months while physicians' fees went up 5.7 per cent.

Robert M. Ball, Social Security commissioner, said the one-millionth Medicare patient is expected to be admitted to one of the nation's hospitals next week but the costs and government reimbursement features of the program still are under study.

Ball told the hospital administrators, however, that the government's formula for reimbursing hospitals for "keeping abreast of the times" would be re-evaluated promptly as experience is gained under the program.

A major issue is the current formula under which the government pays hospitals operating under Medicare 2 per cent of their operating budget as a cost-plus feature. Such funds, for example, would be used to train personnel to operate a kidney machine or other technical equipment which could become obsolete in a few years.

The new AHA president, George E. Cartmill, president of Harper Hospital, Detroit, said in

Prince to Take Over Nation

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — Crown Prince Charles Ndiyeze, 19, who took over the throne of Burundi while his ailing father was in Europe, will be crowned Thursday, the Burundi Embassy here announced.

The prince, the statement said, dismissed the government led by Leopold Biha, suspended the constitution, and took over as head of state "because of the country's political instability and weakening economic position."

His father, 61-year-old King Mwambutsa IV, 61, was in Geneva and condemned the "open rebellion against my authority."

U Thant Will Not Serve a 2nd UN Term

By MILTON BESSER
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U Thant rejected today a new five-year term as secretary-general of the United Nations.

"I have decided not to offer myself for a second term as secretary-general," Thant said, "and to leave the Security Council unfettered in its recommendation to the General Assembly with regard to the next secretary-general."

Thant's statement, contained in a message to the 117 delegations of the U.N., gave no indication he was willing to stay on for an indefinite period while the Security Council tackled the job of finding a new secretary-general. His term expires Nov. 3.

The statement of the soft-spoken, popular Burmese, issued after heavy pressure from U.N. members to persuade him to stay on, reflected his disillusionment and dissatisfaction with the arduous job.

He said he had to "confess to a sense of dissatisfaction with the fact that the organization has not yet achieved universality of membership." This was a reference to the continued absence of Red China as a member.

Pryor Heads Demo Party Temporarily

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — David Pryor of Camden, cited as one of the outstanding young men in the state party, was named temporary chairman and keynote speaker for the Democratic State Convention Wednesday.

Pryor, 31, is the Democratic nominee for 4th District congressman.

Leon B. Catlett, state party chairman, announced Pryor's selection. "His record of distinguished service to Arkansas in the legislature and to the party in his every action and expression makes him a logical choice to set the tone for the keynote this convention," Catlett said.

Pryor said it was "a singular honor for one as young as I am to have this responsibility. I will try to give voice to the compelling reasons for victory."

Africans Are Refused by Stuttgart Cafe

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus apologized Wednesday to 25 Africans reportedly turned away from a Stuttgart cafe the day before. Faubus, referring to an incident he said he understood was unpleasant to some of the visiting Africans, told them, "We wish it had not occurred. I apologize to you for his happening and say that we hope no other such incident will occur while you are here."

The Africans are agricultural officials spending 10 days in Arkansas during their three-month American visit. They are studying agricultural techniques, community development and communications under a program sponsored by the Agency for International Development.

The 25 reportedly were denied service in one part of a Stuttgart cafe, but were told they could be served in the Negro section of the cafe.

Maxwell, a Negro, was scheduled to die at dawn Friday in the Arkansas electric chair.

George Howard of Pine Bluff and Norman C. Amaker of New York are attorneys for Maxwell.

Howard said Amaker told him Justice Byron White of the U.S. Supreme Court said Wednesday he would issue a stay of execution today to permit Maxwell to appeal an adverse ruling from a lower federal court.

Officials at Cummins Prison Farm confirmed that no execution was planned for Friday.

Last week, U.S. District Judge J. Smith Henley of Little Rock dismissed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in which Maxwell contended that Arkansas juries had practiced racial discrimination in applying the death sentence for rape.

Maxwell, 26, was sentenced in Garland County for the rape of a white Hot Springs woman in 1961.

The 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis refused Tuesday to review Henley's ruling and also refused to grant a stay of execution.

British Air Liner Falls, 95 Killed

By BORIS BOSKOVIC
LJUBLJANA, Yugoslavia (AP) — A British airliner carrying 117 persons on a vacation to Yugoslavia crashed and burned today as it came in for a landing and 95 persons perished.

Officials here said 80 persons died when the plane plunged into a woods shortly after midnight in cloudy weather near the airport of this mountain city.

The other victims died in hospitals or on the way. Officials said that of the 22 survivors, two were in serious condition but the others were out of danger.

Rescue workers said those who survived had nearly all been seated in the back of the plane.

When the first rescuers appeared, about a dozen survivors were stumbling about, weeping in shock and hysteria.

Balloons Are Seen Over Arkansas

By The Associated Press

A huge balloon has been seen over portions of Northeast Arkansas, but some residents expressed concern Wednesday before learning what it was.

The Memphis Weather Bureau identified the object, soaring some 50,00 feet above the ground, as a balloon that measured about 415 feet by 305 feet.

The bureau said the balloon came into Arkansas from Missouri and supposedly was used in some sort of experiment, but not by the Weather Bureau.

Radio Station KWTN at Wynne said it received about 100 calls telling of the silver object. The object was also sighted at Newport and other towns.

China Strong Man Expands Red Purge

By JOHN ROBERICK
TOKYO (AP) — Red China's new strong man, Defense Minister Lin Biao, called on the militant young Red Guards Wednesday night to expand the purge now sweeping the Chinese mainland but warned them against coercion and force.

"Don't hit people," Mao Tse-tung's heir apparent told 500,000 young Red Guards and other revolutionary youths in Peking's Square of Heavenly Peace.

Lin, 59, said he spoke for Mao, who rode around the square at his side during the rally. But the 72-year-old chairman of the Communist party did not speak.

The teen-aged Red Guards have been carrying out a nationwide purge of foreign and pre-Communist influences as part of the "cultural revolution" ordered by Mao to strengthen the hold of his ideas on China. The youthful purge has been marked by violence and the humiliation of its victims.

Lin, according to the New China News Agency, called on the Red Guards to carry out their campaign by reasoning and not by coercion or force.

Lin told the youths to "further develop the cultural revolution — smash four olds (old ideas, old culture, old customs and old habits) and deal a heavy blow to a handful of bourgeois rightists."

But coercion or force, he said, "can only touch their skins" while reasoning can "touch their souls, show their counter-revolutionary features, isolate them to the maximum, discredit them, pull them down and smash them."

Premier Chou En-lai gave the same advice in milder language.

NCNA said Mao was "beaming" through the speeches but did not mention the state of his health. It said there were loud cries of "Long life to chairman Mao!"

From elsewhere in the Communist world came a report of opposition to the purge inside China and condemnation from other Communist parties.

Radio Prague, in Czechoslovakia, reported that 40,000 workers in North China clashed with Red Guards and more than 140 persons were injured. Radio Prague and the Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said the street fighting took place in Ching-Tao, which is usually spelled Ting-Tao in English. It is in Shantung Province.

Havana's Communist newspaper Granma said the campaign to glorify Mao was ridiculous and harmful to world communism.

The Soviet Communist party issued a statement in Moscow denouncing the new Chinese extremism as opposed to "the Marxist-Leninist line." Moscow said this policy, combined with "slandering attacks" on the Soviet Union, was undercutting the Communist war effort against the United States.

Highways Slaughter Bill Near

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
WASHINGTON (AP) — A landmark safety package that would give the government broad authority to deal with slaughter on the nation's highways is one short step from final congressional approval today.

Both houses gave unanimous approval Wednesday to the bill that would grant the government power to set mandatory safety standards for all new cars, buses and trucks starting with 1968 models. Power to develop standards for automobiles and, eventually, the sale of used cars also is included.

The House action came on a 365-0 vote, and two hours later the Senate acted by voice vote.

The House also passed 360 to 3 a highway safety bill that would provide $322 million in federal aid to help states and communities establish safety programs covering such things as vehicle inspection, driver education, improved highway design and maintenance and traffic control.

Final approval of the highway bill is expected in the Senate today, sending it to the White House. Some congressional sources said they expected President Johnson to sign both bills on Labor Day — next Monday — in the auto capital of Detroit. But the White House has not announced definite weekend travel plans for the President.

The signing will cap more than a decade of congressional debate on how the federal government can reduce accidents, which last year took nearly 50,000 American lives and injured some 250,000 persons.

Final approval would mean that starting with 1968 models, new cars manufactured or sold in this country would carry as standard equipment such safety features as head rests, shoulder harness anchorages, dual braking systems, retractable steering columns, safety door latches and additional interior padding.

Some car makers already have announced plans to make some of these features standard equipment in 1967 models.

The major impact of the legislation may not be felt for a number of years, however, until (1) The state safety programs take effect, (2) Millions of new cars are manufactured with safety features and (3) The safety standards are extended to cover used cars as well.

The two bills, which contain total authorizations of $381.8 million over three years, would set up this timetable for federal action:

Jan. 31, 1967 — Secretary of commerce must issue initial auto safety standards, effective for 1968 models.

Jan. 31, 1968 — Revised safety standards are to be issued for 1969 models.

One year after enactment of the legislation — the secretary must issue a report, including new legislative proposals if necessary, on the need for used-car standards.

Two years from enactment — Secretary must issue used-car standards and tire labeling and performance standards.

Dec. 31, 1968 — Any state not having a highway safety program in operation faces loss of 10 per cent of its federal highway aid. The secretary of commerce can waive this provision, however.

If Congress, as expected, completes action to set up a department of transportation later this year, the entire program would be placed in that department. The bill would provide for a national traffic safety administrator to direct the safety programs.

Many Think No Tax Hike Before Jan.

By EDMOND LE BRETON
WASHINGTON (AP) — The current guess on Capitol Hill is that if President Johnson proposes a tax increase it will include hikes both on individuals and business and it probably will not reach Congress before next Jan. 1.

No administration tax program has been drawn up, congressional informants agreed. But some spoke of what they regarded as informal probes — for example, of what Congress might think of restoring corporate income tax temporarily to its old level — 52 per cent instead of the present 48 — or of what level of Viet Nam spending might induce Congress to boost the individual income tax.

The lawmakers got a succession of reminders this week that the possibility of a tax boost intended to curb inflation and help finance operations in Viet Nam is a live one.

On the questions of what kind of boost and when to expect it, some reasoned this way:

The amount of extra revenue sought will be determined by what the White House and Defense Department decide must be provided in extra funds for Viet Nam, Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, told his colleagues to expect something between $5 billion and $15 billion.

Using the midpoint, $10 billion, as a working figure, it is easy to calculate, realistically, that only a minor part of this extra spending would be absorbed by cutting domestic outlays.

Since fiscal projections have the budget approximately balanced except for Viet Nam expenses, the choice apparently is between more taxes and the biggest deficit in years — one that would clearly strengthen the inflationary forces already worrying the White House and Congress.

A 4-percentage-point increase in the corporate income tax would yield about $3.2 billion. Or, $2 billion could be picked up by suspending the 7 per cent investment credit allowed businesses for spending on new plant and equipment.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., has introduced legislation to suspend the investment tax credit and he said today he has an idea the President may support the proposal.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce expressed opposition to Long's proposal Wednesday, saying such a move could lead to recession.

Even in the unlikely event that businesses were presented both with a hefty corporate tax increase and a suspension of the credit, more revenue still would be needed. The only practicable place to get it would be from individuals' income tax.

Presumably, also, a personal income tax boost would reduce demand somewhat and thus attack inflation on another front as well as tend to dampen the competition for credit that has sent interest rates soaring.

Connally Turns Down Farm Group

By JACK KEEVER
NEW BRAUNFELS, Tex. (AP) — Gov. John B. Connally warmly hugged Rio Grande Valley farm wage marchers then turned down cold their plea for a special legislative session to pass a $1.25 minimum wage law.

Connally's move — driving out Wednesday to meet the marchers who were walking 400 miles to see him — was sudden and dramatic.

The marchers were awed and nervous, at first. Some even rehearsed what they would say to him after they learned he was on the way.

But after the governor rejected the special session, and told them he would not see them at the end of their long hike in Austin Labor Day, the smiles, hugs and handshakes turned to rude shouts.

The chant — "Viva Connally!" — stopped, and some of the marchers picked up the cry, "Viva la huelga (the strike)" — "$1.25 an hour!" and "on to Washington!"

And as he walked away from the meeting in the hot sun, Texas AFL-CIO President H. S. Brown promised labor's full support to the march, which began July 4 in Rio Grande City, Tex., just across the border from Mexico.

"I don't think the problem was solved by this meeting," said Brown, who listened but didn't talk as Connally spoke to the leaders of the march — Eugene Nelson, an organizer for the National Farm Workers Association, and the Revs. James Novarro and Antonio Gonzalez, both of Houston.

Connally, flanked by Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, Democratic nominee for the U.S. Senate, and House Speaker Ben Barnes, walked into the midst of the marchers alongside Interstate 35 just outside New Braunfels, about 45 miles from Austin.

Connally said he was worried because marchers in other parts of the nation had caused "riots, bloodshed, loss of life and property."

"You don't need a march to see me," he added. "The door of my office is open and was open July 4."

The 40-50 marchers, mostly Mexican-American field hands who say they make from 30 cents to $1 an hour, have been orderly since they set out on foot for Austin.

"While we were pleased that Governor Connally, Attorney General Carr and speaker of the House Ben Barnes came to visit with valley farm marchers, their statements did not, however, alleviate the problems of Texas workers who are living at a poverty level without any protection of the law," said a statement by the march leaders.

It added, "They said nothing that would even indicate their support of the problems."

Connally said: "We are not sitting idly by. We are trying every way we know how to do something about this."

"Animal Games"

THESE PARIS PRETTIES reveal that not all French couturiers went Mod or mad for fall. For Lanvin, Jules Crahay (left) styled a lemon-yellow wool tunic ensemble. Narrow band is of black seal. Cocktail costume (center) by Pierre Balmain features semi-tent coat in blue, red, purple and green stripe over roman-striped zibeline on black dress. For evening Mark Bohan of Dior favors a "Nanny" cape of downy wool over lustrous satin dress with new draped halter neckline. Ensemble is in two shades of geranium pink. Shoes provide the touch of silver fashion-able for coming season.

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

A LOT OF HOT AIR

Dear Helen: Most boys wonder what birthday gift to give a steady girl friend. This is a touchy subject.

If you give her perfume, she may believe you think she needs it.

If you give her clothes, she'll figure you don't like the way she dresses.

If you give her jewelry, she'll believe her beauty alone isn't enough for you.

If you give her records, she'll say, "You're just trying to drown me out."

If you give her nothing, you're a tightwad.

So here's my solution: Give her balloons. She can't argue about that. Besides, she'll be so busy blowing them up, it will keep her quiet! Which is a relief to everyone.

This is a tip to the guys who need it. Personally I don't. I gave my steady balloons and she gave me the air. — Lesson Learned

Dear L.L.: . . . And since you got the air, you're no longer up in it about what to give a steady for her birthday. The blowup saved you money. — H.

Dear Helen: I don't understand how anyone can write to you and say they don't know the facts of life because their parents won't tell them. By the time you get to freshman year in high school, if you haven't already got things down pat in family living classes, you're read between the lines in magazines. What more do these kids want to know? — S.C.

Dear S: It does seem unbelievable that young people can still remain ignorant in the face of the biggest barrage of sex information in history. But many do, chiefly because they don't understand what they read and are afraid to ask questions.

They have a general knowledge but they aren't at all sure how it applies to them. And here is where fear, experimentation, or shame starts.

Let's hope THEIR children won't have this problem. — H.

Nashville Gets Airport Funds

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The director of the Arkansas Department of Aeronautics says the Federal Aviation Agency has granted $43,558 to Howard County for the construction of an airport at Nashville.

Jimmy Woodward said Monday that the airport would be built on a matching fund basis with the federal grant going toward the purchase of a site and construction of a 3,000-foot runway.

War's Baby Boom Is Now Grown, Girls in Marriage Squeeze

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The country is caught in the middle of a marriage squeeze. It looks like a half million or more young girls are going to have to postpone their first marriage, or get hooked to somebody they would have passed up in normal times, or — worst of fates — not get married at all.

The cause is the baby boom that followed World War II. The babies are grown up now and the girls are looking for husbands.

The trouble is that girls get hitched younger than guys, ages 18 to 22 for females versus 20 to 24 for males. And most of the guys who were born during the baby boom aren't old enough, statistically speaking, to march to the altar.

It was all described today to the American Sociological Association convention by two men from the U.S. Census Bureau, Paul C. Glick and Robert Parke Jr.

In a paper they said: "Generally speaking, the squeeze can be resolved in any or all of several ways.

"By the boys marrying for the first time at younger ages, "Or by the girls marrying for the first time at older ages, "Or by the girls marrying older widowed and divorced men, or older single men who might otherwise have never married.

"Or," and here the paper lets out the brutal news, "It is possible that more girls will ultimately not marry at all."

The hard facts are that in the late 1950s there were 99 marriage-age young men for every 100 marriage-ready girls. But in the early 1960s, the figure dropped to 94 guys for every 100 gals. Right now, it is down to 93 fellows for every 100 females.

In the cautious phrases of the scientists, Glick and Parke, struck a statistical blow for the American male.

"The evidence so far suggests that in the first part of the 1960's, the marriage squeeze was resolved in large part by changes in the marriage patterns of the women, and not by alteration of the trend of ages at first marriage for men.

"The young men have been successfully warding off any pressure from the mounting numbers of marriageable young women."

If the pattern continues, the sociologists said, "over a half million women will have to postpone getting married."

But the young bachelors better enjoy it while they can. In the 1970s, the ratio will return to 99 guys to 100 gals.

The rose is one of the oldest cultivated flowers.

Kaat Leads Twins Over Boston 11-2

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The people who write those baseball dictionaries may not completely agree, but Jim Kaat says pitching can be defined as allowing the other team fewer runs than your team is getting for you.

And that may explain why Kaat's interest in the Minnesota run production is so intense that he often participates in it himself.

Several times this year, the Twins' lefty has had a hand in his team's scoring and Wednesday's 11-2 victory over Boston, Kaat's 21st, was more of the same.

He led off the third with an infield single and scored shortly thereafter on a single by Tony Oliva. In the fourth, he blooped a single into short left and in the sixth he singled once again and came around on Cesar Tovar's triple.

In the eighth, Kaat struck out, but by then it hardly mattered; he had enough runs to protect two victories.

In expostulating on his pitching theories after becoming the league's winningest pitcher and tying Sandy Koufax for tops in the majors, Kaat said he's pitching no better now than he ever did.

"You can't classify a man who wins 20 games as any better than a man who wins 17 or 18," he said. "I guess it is sort of a pitcher's luck. But scoring and defense aren't luck entirely and they're the difference. And you've still got to hold them to less runs than you get."

Elsewhere in the American League, Chicago took a pair from Detroit, 7-6 in 12 innings and 3-1, Washington and Kansas City split a doubleheader 3-0 and 0-4, Baltimore took Cleveland 5-1 and California bounced New York 5-1.

In the National League, San Francisco beat New York 2-1, Pittsburgh edged Los Angeles 4-3, Cincinnati took Chicago 7-5, Atlanta clubbed St. Louis 8-5 and Philadelphia bombed Houston 10-5.

Kaat wasn't the only one swinging the big bat for the Twins. In all, there were 14 Minnesota hits including Bernie Allen's two-run homer, Tovar's two-run triple and Harmon Killebrew's two-run double. Tony Conigliaro hit his 25th homer for Boston.

Detroit hit four homers in the opener, but they all went for nothing when Tommy Agee scored an unearned run in the 12th for the Chicago victory. In the nightcap, Gary Peters fired a three-hitter and Pete Ward hit his first homer of the season.

Mike McCormick pitched his second straight shutout for the Senators in the first game, a four-hitter. Frank Howard hit his 17th homer. In the finale, Paul Lindblad and Jim Nash teamed up for the triumph. Joe Nookoo drove in two runs with a triple.

Frank Robinson's 13th home run, his fourth hit of the game, put Baltimore ahead in the eighth inning after Sam McDowell had held the Orioles to four hits. An error, a wild pitch and a single got Baltimore three more runs in the ninth.

Homers by Jose Cardenal and Joe Adcock and the five-hit pitching of Dean Chance took care of the Yankees and ended a three-game California losing streak. The Angels got two more runs in the sixth on an error by Bobby Richardson and a walk to Jackie Hernandez with the bases loaded.

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Ellie Hendricks belted a two-run homer in the eighth inning to back the six-hit pitching of Vern Geishert Wednesday night as El Paso blanked Arkansas 3-0.

The Traveler defeat, coupled with Amarillo's 6-1 victory over Austin, slashed Arkansas' Texas League lead to four games. The Travelers have five games and Amarillo seven games remaining on the schedule. The season ends Monday.

Dallas-Fort Worth and Albuquerque split a doubleheader, with the Spurs winning 1-0 in the first game and Albuquerque coming back 5-3 in the second.

Richardson Announces Retirement

NEW YORK (AP) — Second baseman Bobby Richardson of the New York Yankees said on a taped television program Wednesday night he is retiring from baseball at the end of this season.

"This will be my last year as far as playing baseball with the New York Yankees," Richardson said on the WOR program, "Ladies of the Press."

Richardson's retirement has been the subject of much speculation since the start of the season. It was expected he would announce his plans Sept. 17 when a day in his honor will be held at Yankee Stadium.

The 31-year-old infield ace is in his 11th year with the Yankees. He took a .268 lifetime average into this season and currently is hitting .261. He has played in seven World Series, batting .305.

Six Ladies Seek World Gold Title

Associated Press Sports Writer
SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The six women competing in the first Ladies' World Series of Golf have one characteristic that makes it crystal clear they are members of the weaker sex.

They don't agree on very many things.

Particularly when it comes to picking a favorite in the two-day 36-hole medal test on the 6,504-yard, par 72 Springfield Country Club course.

"Everyone is all keyed up for this one," said Mickey Wright, one of the lady professional circuit's all-time top players. "I don't think you can pick a favorite . . . but if you have to, try Sandra Haynie. She's been playing so well lately."

The golf sextet, playing in two threesomes, started shooting today for the $32,000 purse, largest ever in a Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament. First place is worth $10,000.

Marichal Sweats for 20th Win

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pittsburgh's fans fanned the Pirates past the Los Angeles Dodgers, but Juan Marichal enjoyed anything but a breeze against the New York Mets.

Some 31,000 spectators were on hand with their paper fans Wednesday night as the Pirates edged the Dodgers 4-3 while Marichal sweated out his 20th victory as San Francisco nipped the Mets 2-1.

The results left the Pirates and the Giants tied for first place in the National League with the third-place Dodgers falling three games back.

The fans who came to watch the Pirates play received free fans as they entered the park. They put them to use in the fourth inning after Roberto Clemente reached first base on Jim Lefebvre's error.

When everyone in the stands started waving the fans, the Dodgers complained to the umpires. And while the umpires waited for the breeze to stop, the game was delayed for five minutes.

Once it resumed, Willie Stargell singled off Don Drysdale, but Donn Clemons lined out, ending the inning.

The spectators didn't wave the fans much in the next inning, but quite a few — of the paper kind — were tossed onto the field as the Pirates erupted for four runs.

One of Marichal's problems, on the other hand, was that the Giants didn't do any erupting at all. They trailed 1-0 until the seventh inning and didn't go ahead until the ninth as Marichal waited to gain his fourth consecutive 20-victory season.

Another problem for the ace right-hander was the backstrap muscle he pulled in his right shoulder while striking out Ron Hunt in the ninth inning.

"I felt something pull," Marichal said after the game. "It worries me, but I hope it's nothing serious."

Elsewhere in the NL Philadelphia whipped Houston 10-5, Cincinnati trimmed Chicago 7-5 and Atlanta defeated St. Louis 8-5.

In the American League, Baltimore downed Cleveland 5-1, Minnesota walloped Boston 11-2, Chicago swept Detroit 7-6 in 12 innings and 3-1, Washington blanked Kansas City 3-0 before being blanked 4-0 and California stopped New York 5-2.

The Pirates loaded the bases on singles in the fifth inning, and Gene Alley drove in the first two runs of the game with a two-out single. Clemente and Stargell then singled across the other two runs. The Dodgers rallied for their three runs in the sixth on Willie Davis' homer.

Rich Allen sparked the Phillies past Houston, collecting four hits, including a two-run homer in the first inning. John Callison, Bill White and Cookie Rojas also drove in two runs each as Chris Short gained his 16th victory against eight defeats.

Bill Hands blanked Cincinnati through six innings, but the Reds exploded for their eighth straight victory on Gordy Coleman's three-run homer in the seventh and Art Shamsky's pinch-hit, three-run homer in the eighth. Shamsky's blow climaxed a four-run rally with all of the runs being unearned.

Joe Torre, Rico Carty and the eighth. Shamsky's blow climaxed a four-run rally with all of the runs being unearned.

Joe Torre, Rico Carty and Mack Jones hit homers in Atlanta's triumph over St. Louis. The Braves went ahead 6-5 in the sixth inning when Felipe Alou singled home Clay Carroll and scored on Ed Mathews' double.

Lions Offer Scholarship Challenge

The Youth of Hempstead County have been given a challenge to develop a plan for world peace by their local Lions Club . . . a challenge that could earn one of them a $25,000 educational or career assistance grant.

The Hope Lions Club, together with Lions Clubs throughout the world, is sponsoring a world-wide essay contest for the world's youth on the most important world subject today—peace. The contest offers $500,000 in total awards, including the $25,000 first prize, eight semi-final world regional awards of $1,000 each and travel expenses for the eight winners to Chicago, Ill., in July 1967.

At that time, the first prize winner will be chosen from the eight. Also, more than 20,000 local, district and multiple district awards will be made.

"We are hopeful one of our young people will win this world-wide prestige award," president Bill Gunter of the Hope Lions Club said in announcing the contest locally today.

The contest, open to young people who will be 14 but less than 22 years of age as of January 15, 1967 was announced by the president of Lions International, Edward M. Lindsey, of Lawrenceburg, Tenn., during the Association's Annual International Convention in New York.

"The peace essay contest is divided into eight world divisions for the $1,000 prizes," president Bill Gunter said.

"Our Club's winner will advance to Lions district 7k competition in his (her) effort to qualify for the multiple district contest," Mr. Gunter said.

The contest sponsored by more than 20,000 Lions Clubs in more than 130 countries in the free world, will be the largest peace essay contest in the world today.

"The purpose of the contest is to develop a formula for world peace because we feel peace is attainable," president Bill Gunter said.

"We want to alert our youth to the need for world peace and focus attention on that important goal," he said.

In announcing the contest internationally, president Lindsey said that Lions International, the world's largest service club organization is well qualified to sponsor such a contest.

He said the world-wide representation of Lions, the attention friendship between different nationalities and their participation in international humanitarian programs were their credentials for the patronage of the contest.

Contestants should submit their entry in essay form, not to exceed 5,000 words.

"Judging will fall into four categories: 75 per cent of essay's points will be devoted to content, ten per cent to organization, ten percent to style and five percent to mechanics," Mr. Bill Gunter said.

Local winner will receive $25.00.

Thinks NATO Troop Cut Necessary

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield predicted today the time will come when President Johnson will be glad to have the Senate on record for reducing U.S. troop commitments to Europe.

Mansfield, the Senate Democratic leader, said in an interview he intends to push for action on a resolution calling for a substantial reduction in the U.S. forces in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization despite Johnson's current opposition to it.

He said two divisions of 18,000 men and dependents should be withdrawn now, a move the administration has said it will not make.

"This is an independent Senate action," he said. "The President is opposed to it. But the Senate has some responsibilities of its own and this resolution is the outgrowth of a spontaneous movement among its members."

"I can foresee circumstances when the President might be glad to have this expression of sentiment for some future action of this nature that he might decide was necessary."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, consulted about the resolution Mansfield and 12 members of the Democratic Policy Committee introduced Wednesday, said he is taking no position on it at this point.

Dirksen indicated, however he supports the contention of Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, the assistant Senate GOP leader, that there should be hearings on the proposal.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, top Republican to content, ten per cent to organization, ten percent to style and five percent to mechanics," Mr. Bill Gunter said.

Local winner will receive $25.00.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

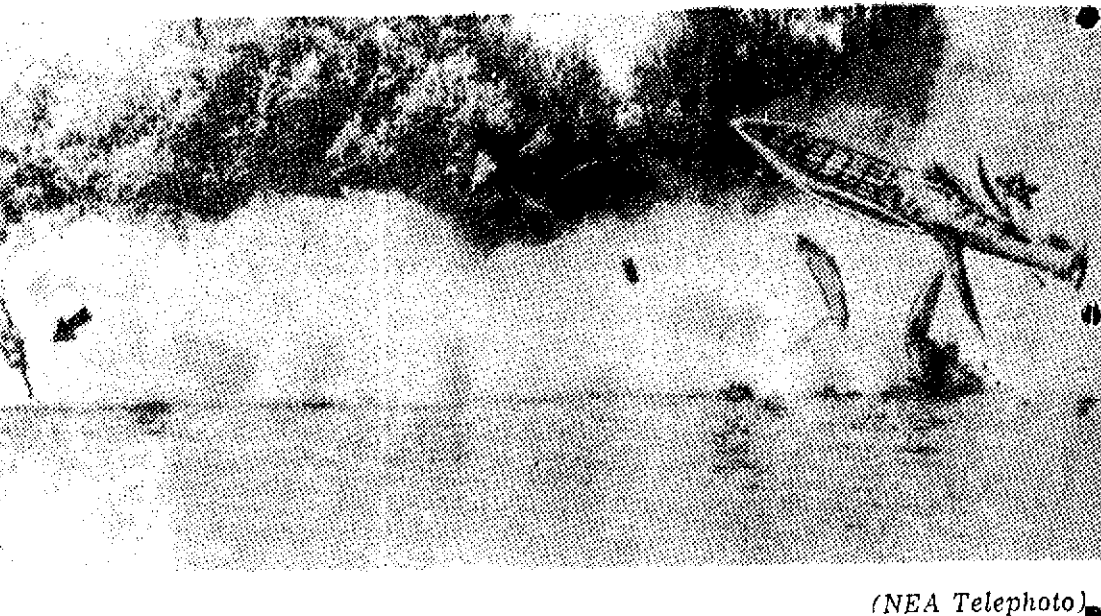

Leg Ulcers Possible Result Of Varicose Vein Neglect
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I have a large varicose ulcer on my leg. What treatment do you recommend?
A—Varicose ulcers are the result of neglecting varicose veins. In most victims treatment is useless unless the underlying cause is removed. When this is done the ulcers will heal spontaneously if given a chance. Keep them clean and cover with compresses moistened with sterile salt solution of the same salinity as tears.

A Polish doctor has speeded the healing of these ulcers by fastening a plastic cage over the ulcer and reducing the air pressure in the cage with a suction pump. If the ulcer is large it must be covered with a skin graft as soon as the underlying base is free of infection. Water pills are also of value in reducing the waterlogging of the affected leg.

Q—My doctor says I have tonsil tags. Are they serious? Could they ever disappear completely?
A—Sometimes a small remnant of a tonsil remains after the tonsils are removed. Such tags may even grow to be almost as large as the original tonsils but they are not likely to become cancerous or have any other serious consequences except that sometimes they may get so big that they, too, must be removed. They do not disappear spontaneously.

Q—A friend's doctor told her that her tonsils would disappear after the age of 25 or 30. Is this true?
A—No, but the tonsils are

Presidents Must Avoid Public Brawls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman's troubles with Congress—and those of President Franklin D. Roosevelt before him—were a lesson for chief executives who followed him.

The lesson was simple: Try to avoid public brawls with the men in the Capitol.

The three next presidents—Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson—couldn't help learning from the lesson. But their political instincts apparently were different anyway. Instead of the stud-banging Truman went through, all three tried to get along with Congress in public, at least even when frustrated and no matter how they felt privately. But then none of them ever had to endure what Truman encountered. He had the opposition party—in his case, the Republicans—on his back almost from the start of his presidency. And some of the Republicans like Sens. Joseph R. McCarthy, J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, and Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, said that hearings are not needed.

The Johnson administration, faced with the delicate problem of a NATO realignment because of France's withdrawal of troops, maintained its position that no U.S. troop cutbacks are contemplated.

Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary, said Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara had told Democratic Policy Committee members who sponsored the resolution that it would "not be a helpful step at this time."

"In our judgment this is a NATO matter and should involve consultation with our allies," Moyers said.

Suit Yourself

BOLD BRIGHT COLORS will separate the individual from the herd on campus this season. From left, a ribbed turtleneck sweater is coupled with muted plaid woolen trousers. The tan, raglan-sleeve raincoat features a zip-out pile lining which makes the coat an all-weather garment. Student is also wearing a bold, herringbone sports jacket. Man in front wears the traditional natural shoulder, three-button, vested suit in glen plaid. Newest button-down collar shirt has wide-track stripes and a buttoned flap pocket. At far right is a trim version of the classic pea jacket, worn with a white turtleneck sweater and wide-waile corduroy trousers.

By ROBERT COCHNAR
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Preparing for college also means getting together the nucleus of an appropriate wardrobe. This project sometimes can be trying.

Many campuses have developed, for better or worse, a certain sartorial style and one betide the naive freshman who appears with out-of-it clothing. So the best advice anyone can offer is to wait until you're settled in the dormitory and see, generally, what upperclassmen are wearing before buying.

While this method is safe and your reputation as a tweed will be guaranteed from the start, it is highly unimaginative and you're liable to wind up with ivy-type uniforms.

If you feel your tastes are developed to the extent that you needn't toady to the fashion whims of campus "fashion-plates," all means strike out on your own. You might want to know, however, what fashion experts and manufacturers consider appropriate campus garb this season. So read on.

Although the Mod look has not been comfortable on campus (leave your floral-attained shirts home), a modification influenced by western styling promises to be most acceptable.

Martin Miller of Contact Slacks, a keen server of men's fashion trends, suggests that bold colors and prints will be big. Western jeans in hopsacks and elephant ale corduroy are in great demand," he reports.

Winds of Change in Autumn Beauty

Sweeping in with the brilliant Autumn breeze, a new look in young sophistication. Summer's lazy laissez-faire gives way to Autumn's heightened vitality. Alice-in-Wonderland manes take on a grown-up air with the addition of an Infanta switch. Fashions defy cold weather with hot autumn-leaf shades of red, orange, yellow and plum, and complexions must hold their own against such onslaughts of color with the addition of blushing cheek tints. Lips echo the gold of harvest time and huge October moons. Coty's new golden Cremesticks add elegance to innocence with "Spanish Gold," a warm, glowing rose; "Fool's Gold," tawny, luscious caramel; and "Gone Gold," pure precious gold to be worn alone, over or under other shades. The "warm" look is definitely in. Leave the "cool" to summer.

Weskits Prove Big Asset

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The weskit, worn with or without a blouse, and teamed with a matching or contrasting A-line skirt will be a big item on the fall fashion scene.

Home sewers may want to start right now to make this important addition to their wardrobes.

The A-line skirt may be 2, 4 or 6 gore with the fullness practically the same in each instance.

Remember that even a slightly circular skirt should have a hem no deeper than 2 inches. Gather the top edge then slip stitch the hem to place. Use easy stitches so the hem cannot draw in any spot.

This pattern design comes in sizes 9 to 18. Weskit bodice is joined to the skirt at a low neckline in accordance with the newest in tailored fashions.

There are two body darts both in back and in front.

The bodice is long enough so you can get into the costume easily without a pocket.

If you are not expert in making buttonholes, take them to your local tailor or sewing machine shop. If you prefer to make them, practice on a scrap of the fabric.

Be sure to cut the darts open, press and clip them.

No. 1474 is in sizes 9, 11, 12, 13, 14, 16, 18. Bust 30 1/2 to 38. Size 11, bust 31 1/2, 4 1/2 yards 35-inch.
TO ORDER: Send 50c in coin to—Mary Brooks Picken, Pattern Dept., 1150 Avenue of the Americas, New York, N. Y. 10036. For first-class mailing add 10 cents.

While madras continues to be a staple, bold plaids and striped patterns have become popular. Miller adds that the trend is toward co-ordinated outfits—slacks, sweaters and accessories forming a total look rather than isolated items.

Sweaters with turtle, mock turtle, crew, vee and boat necks will be seen on every campus. The colors will be bold, and bright competition stripes will separate the well-dressed student from the also-ran.

Despite the student's general disdain for things military, the armed forces have contributed a definite style to the campus. Heavy CPO shirts and new adaptations of the classic pea jacket will be popular outerwear styles. Also look for the "doughboy" jacket with the stand-up collar, epaulets and big pockets.

Sports jackets will continue their reign as the most popular wear-anytime garment. Three-button, natural-shoulder styles will predominate but individualists are turning to European editions—deep side vents, shaped waist, wider lapels, two-buttons. Bold plaids will be popular and burnt orange, heather, red-brown and medium-blue will be the colors.

The vested suit has not lost its popularity. Again, colors are brighter and plaids predominate, although chalk stripes and herringbones will be chosen by discerning students.

In all cases, it appears that the campus, long a stronghold of dull conservatism, has loosened up. The word is bold.

THEY COULD GET THROWN IN JAIL

LONDON, Ky. (AP) — Jailer Joe Proffitt recently discovered an example of good, old American ingenuity and know-how in the London jail.

Two teen-agers made a miniature moonshine still from such odds and ends as coffee and tobacco cans and copper tubing from their cell commode.

Mash for the whisky was made by adding water to crumbled cornbread and sugar salvaged from their meals.

KNOWS THE FAMILY

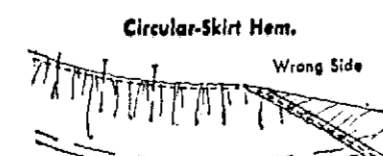

LIBERTY, Ky. (AP) — Dr. L.C. Young has read the vows at marriages involving three generations of the same family.

In 1919, the minister married Marion Combest and Doll Daugherty. In 1935, he married the couple's daughter, Hilda, to Charles Wesley. In 1966, he married their granddaughter, Nancy Wesley, to Lewis Williams.

Use a fitted facing in the armholes.

Chanel says a dress, suit coat or jacket should be away from the neck to make room for necklaces or scarves. This does seem a happy idea.

There are beautiful brilliantly colored pure silks from the Orient and one half yard will make two handsome scarves. Fold one the half bias from upper corner to lower corner diagonally. If you are not good at doing a rolled hem, pull the bias edges about 1/4-inch at a time stretching them over your finger.

This makes an easy finish and an attractive one. Each little twist of the fabric gives a cupped look giving a nice effect.

Pick Hangtown Fry For Labor Day

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Kick up your heels and be adventurous at your outdoor grill over the long Labor Day weekend. Instead of the familiar (though good) hamburgers and hot dogs, go West, young man, and surprise the crowd with a 49er Hangtown Fry.

One of the most famous "outdoor" meals in American history was scrambled eggs and oysters, called "Hangtown Fry." During the Gold Rush days in California, eggs were almost as precious as the gold in the ground. This dish was named after a California mining town by the camp cook who created this combination of oysters with precious eggs and available seasonings. It was cooked outside over a campfire.

(Our own maternal grandfather was a pioneer and settled in the mountains of Northeast California where there was gold. My mother often told us about the barrels of oysters he would have sent up from San Francisco via Nevada City on the narrow gauge railroad.)

OYSTERS and eggs, Hangtown Fry, cooked over an outdoor fire.

- HANGTOWN FRY
(Serves six)
1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter or margarine
2 cups (1 pint) oysters, well drained
6 eggs
1/2 cup beer
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon Tabasco

Melt butter in a large heavy skillet. Add well-drained oysters and saute them just until the edges begin to curl. Beat eggs well with beer, salt and Tabasco. Pour egg mixture evenly over oysters. Stir over low heat until eggs are lightly scrambled. Serve immediately with dark bread and butter.

Gaynor Maddox has a book of delicious outdoor recipes. To get it, send $1 with your name, address and Zip number to: COOK OUT, c/o (Name Paper), P.O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

DO-IT-YOURSELF

Fall Presents Need for Many Repair Problems

By MR. FIX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The changing of the seasons is a time to take stock around the house. In the fall it is especially important since this is the time you must start preparing for inclement weather.

Have your furnace checked before it goes into daily use. Replace filters in warm air systems. Make certain that the pilot light is on in gas fueled furnaces. If you use oil, your storage tank should be full. Make sure that water levels are where they belong in steam or hot water heating systems.

Take down screens and put up storm windows. Check your windows before putting up storms. Putty should be sound. Wash windows before putting up storm windows—it will save work later on. Wind-driven rain and snow can do a great deal of damage to a home with cracks and openings in the walls, loose or broken shingles on the roof. Observe your roof on a windy day. Shingles that flutter in the breeze should be fastened down. A roof top inspection is even better in detecting broken, curled or loose shingles. But unless you are experienced, sure-footed and unafraid of heights, leave this to the professional roofer.

Nail Loose Shingles
If you can get up there yourself to handle the repairs, nail down loose shingles and put a dab of asphalt cement under the shingle.

Work on a warm day. Shingles will be flexible and the cement will be easy to use.

Another roof job is the checking of chimneys and the flashing around them. Chimneys should be checked for cracks and crumbling mortar. The entire chimney can be painted with masonry sealer.

Flashing may be corroded or cracked. Minor repairs can be done with asphalt cement. If the flashing must be replaced, call in a roofer.

Gutters fill with leaves during the fall and it will take more than one trip up the ladder to keep them clean. But they must be thoroughly clean before winter comes.

To keep downspouts from clogging, install strainers at the openings at the top. Clean gutters and downspouts of rust and paint with rust preventative.

Use Calking
Calking keeps rain from getting into openings and ruining wood. Calk around doors and windows and in corners. Calking guns and cartridges are inexpensive, make the job quick and easy.

Check your yard. Are there trees with shallow roots? Stakes and wire will help them survive bad weather. Fences should be inspected. Posts that are loose should be reset. If you use concrete, make the top of the concrete higher than the surface of the ground and slope it to shed water. New posts should be treated with a wood preservative.

Examine walks and drive for cracks in the concrete. Hairline cracks will fill with moisture. The subsequent freezing and thawing will make them worse. Clean them of loose material and patch. Use a ready-mix concrete patch that requires only the addition of water.

Complete outdoor painting jobs now. When the weather drops below 50 degrees it is too cold to paint.

Miles of Hot Dogs
What will they think of next? It's been determined by Meat Board experts that 190 million people consume hot dogs measuring 1.3 million miles yearly. That is enough mileage to make two round trips to the moon (955,428 miles) and 14 trips around the earth (350,000 miles).

The average hot dog is five and one-half inches long. The average per person consumption is 80. Paper and pencil, anyone?

NOISY SCRUB IS SAVED
PERTH (AP) — One of Australia's rarest birds, the noisy scrub bird, has forced the West Australian State Government to abandon plans to establish a new town.
The town, Casuarina, was to have been in the heart of the noisy scrub bird country near Albany, 300 miles south of Perth.
The dropping of the proposed townsite, which was announced in an issue of the Government Gazette, is a victory for the wildlife conservationists in Western Australia who have been trying to preserve the area as a fauna reserve. The noisy scrub bird was first identified by ornithologist John Gould in 1843 from specimens collected in the area. Between 1889 and 1961 the bird was neither seen nor heard, but it reappeared and was positively identified at Christmas 1961.

Economical Steak for Outdoors or Kitchen

A GOOD COOK tells us that a great success using steak on the outdoor charcoal grill as well as in the kitchen range. When we tried her recipe, we found it excellent; you might want to follow suit.

The trick that tenderizes and makes the meat is allowing it to stand for some hours in a marinade before cooking. A number of flavor-builders, including the pungent herb marjoram, go into the marinade. In broiling the steak, we cooked it until medium-rare. In serving it, we sliced it thin across the grain. These methods help produce tender broiled beef. The donor of this recipe is a guest who served the steak during a summer weekend when she and her husband were in the area.

She puts together the marinade in the late morning and lets the meat stand in it all day long. At dinnertime, when her husband is ready to do the outdoor grill, the meat is cooked over glowing coals. With a couple of growing kids in the family, plus guests, she finds this steak fits in well.

THICK ROUND STEAK, treated to a marjoram-flavored marinade, may be grilled to perfection on the outdoor grill or in the broiler of the kitchen range.

pepper, garlic powder and bay leaves. With a fork or whisk, mix thoroughly.

Wipe meat with damp paper towel. If fat around edge of meat is very thick, cut away about half of it; with a sharp knife, slash remaining fat around edge at 2-inch intervals.

Place meat in marinade; spoon mixture over top surface of meat; cover with plastic wrap. Refrigerate for about 5 hours before broiling according to one of the following methods.

To charcoal-broil: Place meat on greased grid over glowing charcoal coals. Broil on each side, basting occasionally with marinade, only until center is a juicy pink-red medium-rare; test by using a small sharp knife to make a tiny slit in meat. Broiling

Joan Crosby's TV Notebook

By JOAN CROSBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA)—Gary Collins is not your average run-of-the-mill actor.

After a season as a costar of "The Wackiest Ship in the Army," which proved him to be a likable, believable performer, Collins was offered another series in which he would star.

He was also offered a pilot in which he would play second saddle (it's a western) to Dale Robertson. That's the one he took.

"I felt I didn't have enough experience behind me for a show of my own," he said, explaining his role in "Iron Horse," which premieres on ABC-TV on Sept. 12. "I wanted one or two more years because it gives you confidence."

"Iron Horse" is an action show about the building of a railroad. Gary plays an engineer, who is part-owner of the Buffalo Pass, Scalplock and Defiance Railroad.

"I'm trying to put what I learned last year to use," Collins continued, "but basically I'm playing the same character, yelling and screaming a lot. He starts out as an idealist, but I hope I can eventually dig my fingers into some meat."

"There is one thing going in this show I didn't have in the other one. The Navy had a lot to say about the character I played. Anything not in keeping with their propaganda was out. As far as the character Jack Warden (Major Butcher) played on "The Wackiest Ship in the Army. The Army totally disowned it."

Gary Collins

But Screen Gems, which has produced both Collins' series, believes in him so much they are developing three series for him over the next few years. He has the option of choosing the one he wants.

"When some of my friends heard I was going in Iron Horse they gave me the devil. They said I was laying my career on the line as Dale Robertson's right-hand man. Well, acting is acting, no matter what you do. If you have a good writer at work, fine. If not, you act the best you can and hope for a good part next year."

Tall and handsome Gary has a contract which permits him four outside appearances. He is hoping they will be on musical shows because he wants to try singing in public again.

"But I want to be sure what I am doing is right," he said. "I don't want to go out and lose my voice again, which is what happened the first time I tried a musical after I got out of the service."

Teen-Age Set Gives High Rate To Ground Beef

Give them ground beef in one form or another and they're happy to eat, say mothers of teen-agers. They consume it in hamburgers, pizzas or spaghetti sauce.

This special open-face sandwich gives them ground beef in a variation of old favorite Sloppy Joes, says Roba Staggs, meat authority. As such, it furnishes the complete protein which young people need both to build and repair body tissues.

Mushroom soup replaces tomato in this version and English muffins are used instead of buns.

Teen-Age Special

1 1/2 pounds ground beef
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup green pepper strips
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed mushroom soup
1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
6 large English muffins, split and toasted
Paprika

Cook onion and green pepper in lard or drippings until tender. Add ground beef and cook until browned. Pour off drippings. Combine soup, milk and salt and add to beef mixture. Cook until heated through, about 5 minutes. Serve on toasted English muffins. Sprinkle with paprika. 4 to 6 servings.

Barbecued Lamb

BARBECUED LAMB shoulder, grilled just right on rotating spit, can rival lamb shish kebab as an outdoor taste delight.

LAMB SHOULDER

1 lamb shoulder
1/2 clove garlic, minced
1/2 onion, minced
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
2 tbsp. A.I. Sauce
1 can (6 oz.) tomato paste
1 cup red wine

Have butcher bone and roll lamb shoulder. Spit it straight through meat over coals, baste often with sauce prepared from all ingredients. Cook 1 hour for medium rare, 1-1/2 hours for medium. Serves 6.

Selective shopping is important to achieve full value in school clothes, even if only one new item is being added to your child's closet. Look for long-lasting, quality fabrics that wash well and iron easily—or even not at all.

Chic Granny Gowns Made With Sheets

Granny gowns are "in" right now for lounging in fresh comfort, for sleeping in soft smoothness, for keeping you feeling pretty always. They're so feminine. And, a wonderful idea is to make your own to match decorator sheets.

Granny in pants or pajamas around the house? Never. She was a lady. Now fashion puts pants and pajamas out of the house too. For going out to smart parties or discotheques, maybe. At home, stay fashion feminine in flowery, washable cotton gowns. Lovely as a nightgown. Nothing could be prettier for every lady about the house from three years to eighty. Fun for college girls in the dorm too.

Granny didn't have combed percale soft sheets. Today, you do. Match granny gowns to the dominant prints of your bedroom linens. Here's how: all you need is your sewing kit... some elastic... simple granny gown patterns sold everywhere... and a Springmaid sheet in any of the several lovely floral designs and colors, bearing such exotic names as Floral Lace or Wind Flower. If you're really inventive, copy a curler cap and cover your slippers to match. Or make mother and daughter sets.

Sheet fabric has a practical advantage. A double-bed sheet of combed percale gives you seven square yards of seamless material for easy sewing and more fine fabric for your money.

Be a lady in your home in soft flowing granny gowns—he cool while lounging, tidying, or cooking. At bedtime, slip into one you custom created to match your lovely bed linen.

Griddles Flip Morning Hustlers

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It's a wise mother who gets behind the September Better Breakfast drive. Breakfast skipping, a growing habit, is a health threat to many of our school children.

A Montana Experiment Station nutrition study revealed that breakfast is the meal most likely to set the pace for the teen-ager's nutritional welfare. A 7-day food record of 418 Montana College freshmen and 15-year-old high school students in two Montana towns was analyzed. Those who skipped breakfast or had only coffee in the morning did not make up later in the day for the foods they missed. Thus there was a daily shortage of needed nutrients.

Even though boys are better eaters than girls, their nutritional requirements during teen-age years are the highest of any time in their lives.

Breakfast should supply about one-fourth of the day's calories and protein. One recommended pattern includes fruit, cereal with milk, bread and butter, and milk to drink.

But teen-agers may rebel against this familiar pattern. If so, try another version. How about a hot bread such as griddle cereal muffins with jelly, jam or peanut butter to break the monotony? As an extra inducement, let the youngster make his own on the griddle—as many as he wants

TEEN CHIEF FLIPS his own nourishing breakfast.

HIGH PROTEIN GRIDDLE MUFFINS (8 servings)

1 cup sifted flour
1/4 cup sugar
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup seedless raisins
1 egg, beaten
1 cup cooking oil or melted shortening
1 1/2 cups ready-to-eat high protein cereal

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder, spices, and salt. Stir in raisins. Combine milk, egg, and oil or shortening. Add to dry ingredients, stir just until dry ingredients are moistened. Fold in cereal. Pour 1/4 cup of batter, for each muffin, onto a moderate griddle (350 degrees) spread to make a muffin 3 1/2 inches in diameter. Bake until browned on both sides, turning once, about 10 minutes total time. Serve hot or cold, plain or with butter and jam.
